

Report of the Registrar Council Meeting 14th December 2023

Highlights from the Registrar

PSI Pharmacist Workforce Survey 2023

On 22 November, we launched our second annual pharmacist workforce survey. This survey will allow us to continue to monitor trends relating to the patient-facing pharmacist workforce following the publication of the PSI Pharmacy Workforce Intelligence Report, which was launched on the 25 September. The survey will remain open until 21 December 2023, and we are encouraging all PSI-registered pharmacists and 5th-year pharmacy students to respond to this important survey.

Regional Roadshow Events

In October, we ran a series of regional roadshows, marking another significant milestone in our ongoing commitment to engaging with registrants. The roadshows were the first in-person events held by the PSI following the pandemic and were an opportunity to discuss several important topics, including pharmacy governance roles, pharmacist workforce planning and fitness to practise.

The events took place in Sligo, Limerick, Cork, and Dublin. Attendees from across the country commended the events for providing useful insights into the ongoing work of the PSI and affording pharmacists from all sectors the opportunity to raise any queries they had with PSI staff.

As an important element of our engagement with those we regulate, the regional roadshows aimed to connect with registrants and to listen to insights and reflections from those in attendance. The roadshows allowed us to inform registrants of the latest sectoral developments and capture feedback and insights on various PSI projects and initiatives. For those who were unable to attend the roadshow events, recordings of the presentations are being made available on the PSI website.

Recent communication/collaboration with other regulatory and public authorities

Communication to registrants on Reports of falsified packs of Ozempic™ (semaglutide, 1mg Solution for Injection)

Following engagement with the HPRA and IMVO in relation to reports of falsified packs of Ozempic, PSI wrote to registrants in October. The communication reminded pharmacists of their role in upholding high standards of patient safety by only sourcing Ozempic™ products from appropriately authorised suppliers and adhering to FMD requirements.

Communication to registrants on medicine shortages and supply of key medicines

Through our membership in the Medicines Criticality Assessment Group (MCAG), we supported the development of a joint message for healthcare professionals and the public on steps being taken to manage medicine shortages. The messages also provided reassurance that analysis from the pharmaceutical industry indicates that the supply of key medicines used during the winter season will meet the anticipated demand. The message was issued to all registrants via email.

Public consultations and other submissions

Ireland's first World Breastfeeding Trends Initiative assessment report

In November, PSI provided comments to support the development of Ireland's first World Breastfeeding Trends Initiative (WBTi) assessment report, which was developed by the Core Group for WBTi Ireland. The final report was published on 28 November and aims to report on key policy and practice indicators relating to breastfeeding in Ireland. The report finds that while Ireland is performing well on some policy and programme indicators, this is not translating into positive scores for indicators relating to infant feeding practices.

Department of Health request to review statutory instruments.

Between October and November, at the request of the Department of Health, we reviewed and provided feedback on two statutory instruments, which were drafted to amend the Medicinal Products (Prescription and Control of Supply) Regulations 2003.

Observations to the CJEU - advertisement and discounting of medicinal products

The PSI was invited as the statutory regulator of pharmacists and pharmacies in Ireland, to submit observations to the European Court of Justice (CJEU) in relation to three questions stated by them following a referral to it by a German court. The referral centred around the interpretation of certain provisions of EU Directive 2001/83 related to the advertisement and discounting of medicinal products and the roles and obligations of pharmacies in EU territories in this respect. The PSI took the opportunity to make observations, which amongst other points, restated the obligations on pharmacists and pharmacies as set out in the PSI's Guidance on the advertising, promotion and sale of medicinal products, (published on the PSI website). In particular it pointed out to the Court the PSI's position namely, that the advertising or promotion of medicinal products on the basis of a percentage or other discount, or on any similar basis, could be regarded as the commodification of medicinal products and could have the effect of distracting patients from making an objective evaluation of their normative needs. The observations further stated that such advertising may inadvertently encourage the stockpiling of medicines in the home, with resultant safety risks and potential loss from efficacy from inappropriate storage conditions.

We would like to point out that the Guidance is currently being updated and expected to be published in early 2024.

Advancing the Role of Pharmacy and Pharmacists in the Future Integrated Healthcare System

Key updates

Expert Taskforce to support the expansion of the role of pharmacists in Ireland.

In October, the Minister for Health accepted the first recommendation of the Expert Taskforce, which will empower pharmacists to extend the validity period of certain prescriptions for up to a maximum of 12 months, in accordance with defined criteria, and when in the pharmacist's professional opinion it is safe and appropriate to do so. The decision to extend will be subject to person-centred criteria such as the current stability of the patient's clinical regime, continuity of care and lack of relevant change. This change is due to take effect from 1 March 2024.

As part of preparing to implement the first recommendation, PSI is engaging with several key stakeholders, including pharmacists. All registered pharmacists were invited to join a PSI panel via expression of interest (EOI). The pharmacist panel will enlighten our regulatory work in a number of ways, beginning with an interactive workshop to inform the implementation of the first recommendation of the Taskforce. We received 104 expressions of interest for the panel.

The pharmacist workshop will take place on Tuesday, 12 December. It will explore the regulatory tools or supportive information, such as guidance, that may be needed to support pharmacists in their decision-making when extending prescriptions for patients.

As numbers for the first workshop were limited, those pharmacists who were not selected to participate will form part of the PSI Pharmacist Panel and will be consulted as part of future engagement activities to support our work.

Developing a CPD Model for Pharmaceutical Assistants

Work on implementing a continuing professional development (CPD) model for pharmaceutical assistants has continued. Mazars, who provided external support on this project, presented a report recommending a proposed CPD model, which Council approved at its meeting on 22 June 2023. Subsequently, we met with the Pharmaceutical Assistants Association (PAA) on 26 October 2023. An implementation plan has been developed, and updates on its implementation will be delivered to Council during 2024.

Review of the CPD Model for Pharmacists

Work continues on this multi-annual project, with external support provided by Mazars. The Council will be presented with the final draft report at this meeting and will be asked to consider the report with a view to its acceptance and approval of the recommendations contained therein. This report will be instrumental in enabling the continued implementation and evolution of a CPD model for pharmacists that is fit for purpose and informed by national and international best practice. A revised CPD model should ensure that it supports future pharmacist practice in all settings and that it is agile, adaptive, and sustainable, and that it delivers value for money.

Working Group to implement the recommendations of the Workforce Intelligence Report.

One of the actions under Recommendation One of the Workforce Intelligence Report, i.e. “A national strategy for pharmacy workforce planning in Ireland should be designed to align with national and international best practice, taking a multi-agency, data-driven approach as part of an integrated healthcare system” is the establishment of a multi-agency group focused on national strategic workforce planning for pharmacy. This group is to operate under the stewardship of the PSI and the DoH, and draft Terms of Reference are currently under consideration.

Evolving a More Effective Regulatory Model for Community Pharmacies

Key updates

Falsified Medicines Directive

Throughout 2023, compliance with the Falsified Medicines Directive has continued to grow in an upward trend. Compliance has been consistent in the busier weeks (first and last week) of the month, and for the week beginning 27 November 2023, 69% of medicines packs in the market were successfully decommissioned. This was the highest rate of decommissioning in the year to date. PSI continues to conduct FMD-based focus inspections to assess compliance in pharmacies.

The Irish Medicines Verification Organisation (IMVO) continues to support pharmacies that are verifying but not decommissioning medicines successfully; this support will be extended to those pharmacies that are verifying but have low decommissioning rates.

Autumn Roadshows

As highlighted earlier in this report, we successfully delivered a series of regional roadshows in October, demonstrating our ongoing commitment to engaging with registrants. PSI staff presented on topical issues such as pharmacy governance roles, the Workforce Intelligence Report and Fitness to Practise matters.

The roadshows were well received, and positive feedback was provided by those who attended the events.

Stakeholder Engagement in patient safety and quality initiatives

We are currently developing guidance to help, support, and assist pharmacists on the roles and responsibilities of those in governance roles. We aim to provide clarity to registrants on the legislative interpretation of 'wholetime charge' with respect to the role of supervising pharmacist. Work on the development of this guidance is progressing well, and we aim to have it delivered by Q1 of 2024.

Building our Capability and Performance as a Regulatory Organisation

Key updates

Disciplinary Committees

Following the conclusion of an Expression of Interest, the Council of the PSI recently appointed new members to the Professional Conduct and Health Committees, a Chair to the Health Committee, and new Acting Chairs to the Professional Conduct and Health Committees.

In keeping with the commitment by PSI to ensure that all office holders and Committee members are appropriately supported in the execution of their duties, formal Induction Training to include training on Professional Regulation was carried out for new Committee members at PSI House on 15 November 2023. Annual Chairs and Acting Chairs training also took place on 15 November, focusing on good chairing skills and exercising those skills during statutory complaint hearings.

On 16 November 2023, members of the Professional Conduct and Health Committees attended PSI House for training, which included reviewing reports on statutory complaints and inquiries, reviewing Committee written procedures, and discussing remote and inquiry hearings generally and the effective use of the Legal Assessor at hearings. Updates were also given on the PSI's corporate governance, data protection and expense-claiming policies at the PSI. The afternoon was devoted to professional training on the Deliberations Stage of inquiry hearings, which focused on assessing allegations in complaints, making findings, and recommending sanctions.

Business Transformation Project (BTP Update)

PSI completed work with an independent third party, who carried out an assessment of the proposed approach and associated effort estimates for the next phase of work, Phase 2 Complaints, Concerns, and Queries. This independent review also input into the broader review of the PSI/Codec commercial relationship. The Business Transformation Project Programme Board (comprised of three members of the PSI Council and one member external to the PSI) recommendation will be provided at the December 14th Council meeting as to the proposed continuation of the PSI/Codec commercial relationship in 2024.

In 2024, PSI intends to deliver Phase 2 and commence work on Phase 3, Pharmacy Compliance and Quality Assessment.

Development of PSI's ICT Strategy 2024-2027

The vision for the ICT Strategy is to have sustainable ICT as an enabler to becoming a digital-first regulator, making data-driven decisions that enhance the services we provide to all our customers, both internal and external.

We have commissioned Auxilion, a business and technology solutions consultant, to assist with the strategy's development, and they are partnering with us as we move through the development process.

Workshops with Council and staff in October and one-to-ones with a cross-section of the Executive Leadership Team and the Wider Management Team have taken place. The November newsletter included a short questionnaire to give our registrants the opportunity to provide feedback on our existing and future digital engagements with them.

Auxilion has completed a review of our current ICT capability and capacity, which was used to map where we are as we look to the future. Auxilion has used its expertise in future technology trends to help the PSI consider what is needed as part of our digital future and with regard to existing public sector ICT strategies.

The PSI's ICT Strategy will be ready for consideration by the Council at its March 2024 meeting.

Strategic HR Matters

Through the ongoing implementation of our HR Strategy 2021-2024, PSI is advancing its commitment to continuous improvement in all areas of human resource management and organisation development. Progress made since the last report includes conducting a number of workshops and training and preparing for the launch of the next Employee Engagement survey to assess employee satisfaction and identify areas for improvement.

Organisation Development

We are committed to fostering a culture of continuous learning and development. In Q4, we focused on several key training initiatives aligned with our strategic objectives and supported employee growth. These initiatives included:

First Aid Training:

- Our in-house First Aiders were trained and certified as first responders, enabling them to respond to medical emergencies in the workplace.

Belbin Team Roles:

- The workshop provided an insight into team dynamics and collaboration. Belbin's Team Roles is a model identifying nine team roles grouped into action-oriented, people-oriented, and thought-oriented categories. Effective teams have a balance of all nine roles. The model can be used to improve team effectiveness by identifying strengths and weaknesses, developing strategies, and helping members understand their roles.

Climate Action Mandate and PSI's Roadmap:

- To support our commitment to sustainability and deliver as part of the Government's Public Sector Climate Action Plan, a workshop took place with staff during the Anchor Day in October to discuss PSI's contribution to meeting Ireland's climate targets. This workshop raised awareness about our environmental goals and encouraged employees to adopt eco-friendly practices in their daily work.

Autism Awareness:

- In conjunction with PSI's Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Working Group, a session was delivered by AsIAM at our November Anchor Day. AsIAM provide autism awareness training, and it was organised to provide our staff with a comprehensive understanding of autism and how to create a more inclusive and supportive work environment for individuals with autism.

Higher Executive Officer (HEO) Core Skills Training:

- The training, delivered by Public Affairs Ireland (PAI), focused on team leadership, analysis and decision-making, and interpersonal and communication skills.

Overall Impact of Training Initiatives:

Our training initiatives in Q4 will enhance employee skills, promote a positive and inclusive work environment, and align our workforce with our strategic objectives. We are committed to continuing our investment in employee development and ensuring our workforce is equipped to meet the challenges and opportunities that lie ahead.

Innovation and EFQM

An innovation session for staff was facilitated by Alan Doherty (founder and principal of Novara Labs) during the Public Sector Transformation Week. The session involved using design thinking principles to look at some PSI challenges.

We continue to embed EFQM throughout the organisation and a presentation was made to staff to demonstrate how the work that we do is aligned to the EFQM model.

Equality, Diversity, and Inclusion Working Group

The Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Working Group issued an Equality, Diversity, and Inclusion (EDI) survey to all staff in November. The purpose of the survey is to gain high level information on the following areas:

- Staff diversity levels in PSI.
- Staff views on diversity.
- Staff experiences of discrimination.
- Perceived levels of inclusion.
- General EDI feedback.

This is the second EDI survey to be issued to staff. The information will help us identify trends related to equality, diversity, and inclusion in the PSI, and recommend cross-departmental interventions within the organisation.

Finance matters

From 01 January 2024, under Revenue's new Enhanced Reporting Requirements (ERR), PSI will be required to report to Revenue details of certain expenses and benefits made to staff, Council and Committee members (office holders). This information must be submitted on or before the payment is made. The information to be submitted from 01 January includes the date paid and amount of each payment for:

- travel vouched
- travel unvouched
- subsistence vouched

- subsistence unvouched

PSI's Finance and Support Services Team is reviewing PSI's processes with the view to developing the most efficient process to have in place for complying with these requirements and reporting to Revenue via ROS or through our Payroll software.
